TENNIS COURT TO BE IMPROVED

Because the tennis court is badly in need of repair, the President of the Student Body appointed a committee of four to see that some improvement is made.

This committee composed of Irving Haight, Lowell Edwards, Mary Harnish, and Joan Holmes contacted the members of the city council. They will have a meeting and decide whether the city will be able to furnish some of the money towards the improvements. It is probable that the court will have a macadam surface.

Meanwhile the net is being fixed and the ground cleared.

APPENDICITIS STRIKES

Mr. Hay, the science and math teacher, was rushed to the hospital last Friday evening for an emergency appendicitis operation. Two days before that one of the freshmen, Eugene Bellows, was also operated on for appendicitis.

Mary Wright became very ill on Thursday but was not taken to the hospital until Saturday afternoon. Her appendix had burst and she was in a very critical condition for several days.

Dwight McCorkle was also rushed to the hospital for appendicitis but it turned out to be indigestion.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE DRAWN UP

Planning to adhere strictly to State eligibility rules in baseball, we will play the following preliminary games in our division:

April 4 Eagle Point at Butte Falls.

April 11 open date.

April 13 Prospect at Eagle Point.

April 25 Butte Falls at Eagle Point.

May 2 Eagle Point at Prospect

May 9 open date

May 12 Playoff

This gives us four regular games in our division. The nine schools that will play baseball this season are divided into three subdivisions.

CONCERT IS SUCCESSFUL

The concert presented in the Sams Valley Grange Hall last Tuesday night was very successful. The orchestra was composed of students from Gold Hill, Sams Valley, and Eagle Point. Besides the varied selections played by the orchestra, there were several novelty numbers. The orchestra accompanied Minnie Humphrey of Gold Hill while she danced a Spanish dance. The accordian band and baton twirling class also of Gold Hill performed.

KEEP OFF THE ATHLETIC FIELD

The people do not realize the extent of the injury of trespassing on our athletic field. It's bad enough to drive around in circles out there on the field when the ground is dry, but for heaven's sake keep off the field when it is wet.

The baseball diamond has just been graded and should be in perfect condition when it gets dry. That is, if the cars are kept off the field.

The students should be complimented on their attitude toward school equipment. Although we have a meager supply, nothing is ever taken; nor is the equipment destroyed.

This is true except where the athletic field is concerned. It's too bad we can't keep care of that like we do our other equipment. After all, that field is about the most important of all our equipment.

The townspeople don't help matters either. Their cars spinning around on the field do just as much damage as the high school student's cars do.

Let's see if we can't all help to keep the baseball diamond in good shape!

PATRONIZE THE LIBRARIES

Did you ever think of patronizing the local library? The librarian, Mrs. Brown, has a wonderful selection of books; and any that she doesn't have, she will be glad to order for you.

This should serve as a reminder to those students that feel that they read all the good books in the school library and still need more book reports.

Did you know that today is the first day of spring?

TYPING PINS ARE AWARDED

Approximately three five--minute typing tests are given each week to the second-year typists. If a student makes a rate of fifty words per minute with less than five errors, he will receive a bronze pin. If the rate is 50, a silver pin is awarded; and if it is 70, a gold one. If you receive either a bronze or silver pin and then improve your rate, you may exchange your pin for the next one in line.

Joan Holmes received a silver pin; and Joyce Crismon, Lucille Vieaux, and Martha Abel were awarded bronze pins.

STUDENTS TO PRESENT DANCE TONIGHT

This evening the students are giving a dance in the gym at eight-thirty o'clock. All the students of the following high schools are being invited: Sams Valley, Talent, Phoenix, Butte Falls, Prospect, Rogue River, St. Mary's, Jacksonville, and Gold Hill.

Sandwiches, cake, coffee, and pop will be served for a nominal fee. The admission price will be twenty-five cents for men and fifteen cents for ladies. The profits will be used to pay the orchestra. If there is any left, it will be put in the Student Body Funds.

G. A. A. PROGRAM IS SUCCESSFUL

On March thirteenth the G.A.A. gave a program. There were musical numbers and varied skits to start the program. Next the girls gym class presented their tumbling acts. Edith Hoefft stole the show with her portrayal of a little fat clown.

The evening closed with a cake walk and box social. The boxes were sold for an average of 70¢ each.

The girls took in $20.40 and made a net profit of $10.00.

SENIOR NEWS

Last week the seniors held a class meeting to decide on the class flower, motto, colors, and what the class should leave to the school. It was decided that the flower would be the carnation; the motto, "Impossible is un-American;" the colors, red, white, and blue; but it's a deep secret what the class will leave to the school. The class plans to be really patriotic.

The Senior Conference will be held the 28th of March at the Medford Senior High School. The purpose of this conference is to help the students to decide upon what type of occupation they would like to follow in their future years. This will be considered as regular class work. The seniors are looking forward to this occasion.

Last Monday the senior and sophomore boys really licked the junior and freshman boys in a game of basketball. Of course we all know that the sophomores would have been whipped if it hadn't been for the seniors.

The fifth and sixth grades are writing for their certificates. They hope to get their final certificates also. Then they won't have to take writing any more.

by James Wade

The fifth and sixth grades have had their pictures taken. Mr. Hay came over last Friday and took a picture of the whole room. We were posed with baseballs and our school books to show our favorite activities.

The fifth and sixth grades have been having pretty bad luck with their play, Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves.

The first time they were going to give it a misunderstanding came and we had to postpone it. The second time another misunderstanding came up in the P. T. A. and so we gave up. Dick C.

Baseball season is here. The high school is going to have their first game March 31. I hope they will win. Billy Carlson

Now is the time to go bike-riding or wild flower picking. The weather isn't too hot or too cold for one to enjoy themselves.

Some of the students in the fifth and sixth grade room seem to have "Spring Fever."

EAGLE POINT FIRE DEPT. TRAINS

The Eagle Point Volunteer Fire Dept. is an organization made up of men who are giving there time without pay to the people of this community, so that they may become efficient fire fighters and give all aid possible in the event of fire.

It is true, our Insurance does not allow us to take our equipment out of the city limits on a fire, however we have not hesitated at the last few fires to take our chemicals, buckets and of course the firemen themselves to out of town fires. In other words everyone within a radius of ten miles can be benefited by the training of the Eagle Point Fire Dept.

To make it possible for these men to receive the proper training, we have to have proper equipment and to keep that equipment proper we have to have housing facilities.

It is our desire to finance the rest of our equipment and possibly a fire hall without additional cost to our citizens. As you know the city of Eagle Point has already made it possible for us to have motorized equipment and considerable hose, nozzles, chemicals, ect. However we have not sufficient fire fighting equipment to cope with the kind of fires we could have in and around our town.

We have been giving a series of benefits and it is our intention to give dances every other Saturday at the Oasis, the proceeds to be used to buy our equipment so that you may be protected. We have had two well attended dances and our next will be March 29th, then every other Saturday until further notice.

The owner of the Oasis has turned his hall over to us and will not give any in between dances. ---Eagle Point Fire Dept.

JUNIORS HAVE NO NEWS

---No News---
---Just Views--

I heard the Junior Editor say that there wasn't any news. I thought there was because Mary NEWSbaum was absent from school Monday, and we all missed her. So you see there is news if we only stop to think a little.

The Juniors are gambling quite a bit lately in American History. "How is that?" said the editor. "Well, its like this, said the teacher, I flip a question and say, 'tales', and sure enough it comes down 'tales', yes, with all sorts of tales about not having the lesson."

"Where do the 'heads' come into the picture?" said the editor. "Well, some 'heads' for the back of the room to make up for the 'tales' about that time."

Oh, yes, I almost forgot to tell you that the Sophs and Seniors gave the Junior basket ball squad a good rubbing to the tune of 15-12 on Monday afternoon.

SWALLOWS THAT "WROTE" A SONG

Nearly everyone is familiar with the ballad, "When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano." Not so familiar is the story of the grateful birds that inspired it.

Every year, promptly on March 19, St. Joseph's day, thousands of swallows wing their way to San Juan Capistrano Mission, just out of Los Angeles, Calif., on U. S. High way 101. There they nest in vine-clad walls of the old Mission through Spring and Summer, then leave October 23, feast day of St. John, or "Juan," patron of the Mission that was founded in 1776.

Never once have the "mystery swallows" failed to arrive on time and each year their coming is watched for eagerly by school children and residents whose faith in the birds gave rise to the simile, "as reliable as the Capistrano swallows." Mission records show that the swallows have been returning for 75 years but legend has it that their timetable schedule has been maintained for more than 160 years. Protected and given tender care in Mission precincts, the swallows rear their young and teach them to fly in nearby canyons.

Where they come from, and where they go is a mystery, but when they leave they carry small twigs with them in their beaks. Some say their destination is the Holy Land and that they drop these twigs upon the ocean's surface, and then light upon them for a rest on their long flight across the open water.

Last year the swallows varied their age-old tradition and departed July 16. Mission heads say lack of insects for food prompted the premature departure but they're expecting their feathered little visitors back in their familiar haunts again this month---on time.

This was taken from DODGE NEWS volume 6, number 8.

The students met at Sams Valley in the afternoon and rehearsed for the evening's performance. Afterwards they played baseball.

The next concert will be in Gold Hill, March 26th. On Friday, April 4th, the students will perform in Eagle Point.

MRS. GRAY SUBSTITUTING FOR MR. HAY

Mrs. Gray is substituting for Mr. Hay while he is recovering from an appendicitis operation.

She has spent most of her teaching career in California. She majored in science and music. Recently Mrs. Gray has been substituting in the schools throughout the county.

Teacher: Who laughed out loud?
Buck: I did, sir; but I didn't mean to do it.
Teacher: You didn't mean to do it?
Buck: No, sir; I laughed in my sleeve, and I didn't know there was a hole in the elbow.

TREASURED VERSES

We should so live that every hour,
That every thought and deed,
May hold within itself the seed,
Of future good in future need.

Do what conscience says is right;
Do what reason says is best;
Do with all your mind and might;
Do your duty and be blest.

Be not selfish to each other,
Never mar another's rest
Strive to make each other happy,
And you will yourself be blest.

And though hard be the task,
"Keep a stiff upper lip."

A NEW HAIRCUT

There is a period in every boy's life which causes him a great deal of worry and discomfort. This comes immediately after a hair cut. He has spent a delightful month entirely forgetful of his appearance. Suddenly some kind friend or possibly the female gender of that thing called parents, reminds him that his hair is too long, that it is curling around his ears, and in general, looks disgraceful. After many such remarks, which are not in the least appreciated, he decides that he must get his hair cut, and he proceeds to go to the barber. Before he sits down he tells the barber several times that he should not cut his hair too short. He shudders with every snip of the scissors. Finally the ordeal is over and he emerges from the barber shop, feeling like a sheep with its wool having just been shorn off. As soon as he gets home, he looks at himself in the mirror from all angles. It's just as he thought; the barber practically shaved his head; there's a noticeable section of white between the tan on his neck and his hair. The next day at school he turns his shirt collar up high so no one will notice. He spends most of the day wishing he could pull his head into his shirt; the way a turtle does. In a few days he forgets the terrible ordeal and is as noisy as ever.

TALE ABOUT TOWN!

I was out at the airport the other day and who should I see but George Hard bumping down the field. I had heard that he had completed his advanced flying course.

I also heard (but I don't know the details) that Roy Ashpole is laying bets on the outcome of the chess games around this locality. No wonder--with such champions as Mr. Davies, Arnold Gosnell, Mr. Clark, and Mrs. Holmes. Yes, and there's a newcomer--Elmo McGraw.

Of course you have heard that Mr. Hay, the advisor of this paper, is in the hospital. It is rumored around that he is merely taking a vacation. We can blame Leilla McGraw for that because she evidently told him what a good time she had when she was there.

And that tumbling class! Watch for the posters announcing a return engagement at the high school gym.

GET READY FOR CONTEST

One half of each class shall be entered in a typing contest as of the October 15th enrollment. The contest will be given in a two day period in the home school by an outside instructor.

The local instructor will choose the team in each class which is to be half of the Typing I and Typing II classes. The judging will be for speed and accuracy.

Students should be preparing to enter this contest early in April.

The prizes will be given for first, second and third terms. If the students cannot place first in speed perhaps they can place first in accuracy. If a paper does not meet certain minimum standards such as less than ten errors ect, it will be thrown out of the competition or rated zero.

A contest among individual typing students will be held at Central Point on April 23rd in the forenoon. Entries will be made on or before April 16th if any. The limit of entries will be two students in each section of Typing I and Typing II. Individual prizes will be offered for best speed and best accuracy we understand.

RUMORS

There are rumors that beryllium and kindred minerals have been found in the Derby district. Two different companies may be instrumental in their development of these mines.

It is possible that there will be a large army cantonment established here in the Rogue River Valley. If the war defense program continues, there will be an army base in the vicinity of either Eugene, Klamath Falls, or Medford. Medford is the logical place because of the wonderful water supply. This project would take approximately 40,000 acres of semi-arid land.

It is also rumored that there will be a big dam put in Rogue River. Primarily this would be for flood control, but it would furnish an ideal spot for an inland sea-plane base. The last site selected was near Genesee Lodge.

Because Eagle Point is near all those talked-of projects, it should naturally derive some benefit from them.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

In 1871 when Mr. Royal Brown first came to Jackson County, the salmon were so thick in Butte Creek that you could take them out with a pitch fork. When the horses were led to the creek for water, the fish would swim between their legs and through the spokes in the wagon wheels.

He also tells of another wild story that took place during the Modoc War in 1873. He was staying in a cabin with John Smith, the man who planted all the trees on the north-west side of the creek. Mr. Brown was awakened as the door was opened. He raised up in bed in time to see a fellow dressed in buckskin bending over him with a knife. He had a few bad moments before his companion, John Smith, recognized him as a friend.

Old-timers around here also claim that in 1852 the grass was so tall on the desert that you could bend it over the horses shoulders.

OLD FRIEND CALLS ON BROWN FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Feathers called on the Brown families last Wednesday. They have been old-time friends since they were children living in Jacksonville and have not met since 1882.

Mr. Feathers is a barber in Truckee, California.

LAKE CREEK GRANGE TO PRESENT AGATE

The Lake Creek Grange takes the agate to the Roxy Ann Grange tonight. Several of the Eagle Point members are going to witness the ceremony.

The agate, donated by Mr. Dickson of Gold Hill, is circulating throughout the granges in the county.

ANNUAL WORK PROGRESSES

The work on the Annual is progressing rapidly now. It is rumored that the editor hopes to have a large part of the work done before Mr. Hay returns from the hospital.

Irving Haight has charge of basketball section and Willard Walch, the football section. These boys were recommended by Coach Dickson to do this work.

The class sections are well under way now. From the way two of the senior girls have been laughing so much lately, the Senior Class Prophecy should really be funny.

Eddie Dahack and George Jackson, business manager and assistant advertising manager, are handling the financial part of the Annual very efficiently. At the rate they are going, there should be no danger of the Annual being a losing publication.

Mary Harnish, the circulation manager, has a large responsibility on her shoulders. It is her job to sell one hundred and fifty Annuals. All the students are urged to help advertise the Annual to the friends because it is going to be so interesting that anyone will enjoy reading it whether they have gone to this school or not.
